Preface

The National Curriculum Framework, 2005, recommends that children's life at school must be linked to their life outside the school. This principle makes a departure from the legacy of bookish learning which continues to shape our system and causes a gap between the school, home, community and the workplace.

The student workbook on “Functional English (Basic)” is a part of the qualification package developed for the implementation of National Vocational Education Qualification Framework (NVEQF), an initiative of Ministry of Human Resource Development (MHRD), Government of India to set common principles and guidelines for a nationally recognized qualification system covering Schools, Vocational Education and Training Institutions, Technical Education Institutions, Colleges and Universities. It is envisaged that the NVEQF will promote transparency of qualifications, cross-sectoral learning, student-centred learning and facilitate learner's mobility between different qualifications, thus encouraging lifelong learning.

This student workbook, which forms a part of vocational qualification package for student's who have passed Class VIII or equivalent examination, was created by a group of experts. The IT-ITeS Skill Development Council approved by the National Skill Development Corporation (NSDC) for the IT/ITeS Industry developed the National Occupation Standards (NOS). The National Occupation Standards are a set of competency standards and guidelines endorsed by the representatives of IT Industry for recognizing and assessing skills and knowledge needed to perform effectively in the workplace.

The Pandit Sunderlal Sharma Central Institute of Vocational Education (PSSCIVE), a constituent of National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT) in association with Wadhvani Foundation has developed modular curricula and learning materials (Units) for the vocational qualification package in IT/ITes sector for NVEQ levels 1 to 4; level 1 is equivalent to Class IX. Based on NOS, occupation related core competencies (knowledge, skills, and abilities) were identified for development of curricula and learning modules (Units).

This student workbook attempts to discourage rote learning and to bring about necessary flexibility in offering of courses, necessary for breaking the sharp boundaries between different subject areas. The workbook attempts to enhance these endeavour by giving higher priority and space to opportunities for contemplation and wondering, discussion in small groups and activities requiring hands-on-experience. We hope these measures will take us significantly further in the direction of a child-centred system of education outlined in the National Policy of Education (1986). The success of this effort depends on the steps that school Principals and Teachers will take to encourage children to reflect their own learning and to pursue imaginative and on-the-job activities and questions. Participation of learners in skill development exercises and inculcation of values and creativity is possible if we involve children as participants in learning, and not as receiver of information. These aims imply considerable change in school routines and mode of functioning. Flexibility in the daily time-table would be a necessity to maintain the rigour in implementing the activities and the required number of teaching days will have to be increased for teaching and training.

About Your Workbook

This workbook is to assist you with completing the Unit of Competency IT101-NQ2012: Functional English (Basic). You should work through the workbook in the classroom, at the workplace or in your own time under the guidance and supervision of your teacher or trainer.

This workbook contains sessions which will help you to acquire relevant knowledge and skills (soft and hard) on various aspects of the unit of competency. Each session is small enough to be easily tackled and digested by you before you move on to the next session. Animated pictures and photographs have been included to bring about visual appeal and to make the text lively and interactive for you. You can also try to create your own illustrations using your imagination or taking the help of your teacher. Let us now see what the sections in the sessions have for you.

Section 1: Introduction

This section introduces you to the topic of the Unit. It also tells you what you will learn through the various sessions covered in the Unit.

Section 2: Relevant Knowledge

This section provides you with the relevant information on the topic (s) covered in the session. The knowledge developed through this section will enable you to perform certain activities. You should read through the information to develop an understanding on the various aspects of the topic before you complete the exercise (s).

Section 3: Exercise

Each session has exercises, which you should complete on time. You will perform the activities in the classroom, at home or at the workplace. The activities included in this section will help you to develop necessary knowledge, skills and attitude that you need for becoming competent in performing the tasks at workplace. The activities should be done under the supervision of your teacher or trainer who will guide you in completing the tasks and also provide feedback to you for improving your performance. To achieve this, prepare a timetable in consultation with your teacher or trainer and strictly adhere to the stipulated norms or standards. Do not hesitate to ask your teacher or trainer to explain anything that you do not understand.

Section 4: Assessment

The review questions included in this section will help you to check your progress. You must be able to answer all the questions before you proceed to the next session.

At the end of the Unit, there is a list of learning resources which include books, journals, newsletters, websites, etc. to support your further learning.

SESSION 1: INTRODUCING ONESELF

6. "I am from..."
7. "I am working as a ..."
8. "I am a ..."
9. "I studied at..."
10. "I am/came here to..."
11. "My hobbies are..."
12. "I like..."

EXERCISE

Read aloud the following sentences:

1. My name is _____ (include your name). And you are?
2. I am a doctor. I work at Safdarjung Hospital.
3. It is a pleasure to meet you.
4. Her name is Nisha. And the two men she is talking to is Manoj and Rahul.
5. She is a doctor. She works at Safdarjung Hospital.

Read this:

1. I have a dog.
2. Do you have a dog?
3. We have a dog.
4. He has a dog.

ASSESSMENT

Fill in the blanks with the correct option.

1. Hi! I ___ Priya.
a. is b. am c. are

2. _____ am 21 years old.
a. He b. I c. She
3. I _____ in Delhi.
a. live b. lives

a. are b. is c. am
9. I _____ one sister.
a. has b. have c. having
10. She _____ a student.
a. is b. am c. are

SESSION 2: GREETING OTHERS

RELEVANT KNOWLEDGE

Every interaction starts with some form of greeting. The way we greet, the tone and the language changes according to our familiarity with the person being greeted. Given below are some of the statements we generally make whenever we greet someone:

Greeting a friend:

1. Hello! How are you doing?
2. It has been a long time since we last met!
3. Hello! How are you doing now?
4. How's life?

Greeting an acquaintance:

1. Hello! How are you?
2. Hello! How have you been?
3. Good morning/afternoon/evening! All's well?

Greeting a stranger:

1. Hello!
2. Good morning/afternoon/evening!
3. How do you do?
4. My name is Aarti. May I know your name?

Look at the following sentences:

I greet you every day. You greet me every day. He greets me every day.

We greet you good morning. You all greet us good morning. They greet us good morning.

Do you see any change in the two sets of sentence?

There is a rule which is the reason behind the change:

For any subject (name of a person, place or thing) that is in the third person and singular (Ram, Rita, he, she, it, Delhi, bus, chair, etc), the verb will take an “s” or “es” after it.

Examples:

1. Ram meets new people every day.
2. He works as a sales person.
3. Delhi gets rain in the month of July and August.
4. The bus goes to Munirka.
5. The chair makes a noise when you sit on it.

For every other subject - first and second person, singular or plural, and third person plural (Ram and Rita, they, Delhi and Bombay, buses, chairs, etc) - the rule will not apply.

Examples:

1. I meet new people every day.
2. We meet new people every day.
3. You meet new people every day.
4. You all meet new people every day.
5. Ram and Rita meet new people every day.

EXERCISE

Activity: Role Play

Objective: This activity will be facilitated by your teacher or trainer. At the end of this activity, you will be able to greet friends, neighbours and strangers confidently. The following 3 situations may be used for a role play:

Situation 1: You have met a friend after a long time. The last time you saw him was in school. How would you greet each other?

Situation 2: You meet your local grocer while you are taking your morning walk. You ask him if his shop will be open today.

Situation 3: You see a person come down the stairs of your building. You have not seen him before, but you guess that the person may be your new neighbour. You want to greet him and introduce yourself.

Practice making simple sentences using the Third Person Singular rule. For example:

- I/You take English classes.
- S/he takes English classes.

Twenty five to two (1:35)

EXERCISE

Write the time

(a) _____

(b) _____

(c) _____

(d) _____

(e) _____

(f) _____

SESSION 5: FRAMING QUESTIONS

RELEVANT KNOWLEDGE

While framing questions, the sentences should begin with the question words (see list of Question Words) given below;

Examples:

Which student was absent yesterday?

Is he present today?

Did he bring his leave report today?

Read aloud the following sentences:

1. I am Mina.
2. My name is Mina.
3. I am from Delhi.
4. I am here to meet a friend.
5. I came by bus.
6. Yes, I am an Indian.
7. No, I will not shop with my friend.
8. Yes, I have called her up.

Study the list of “Question Words” given below:

Word	Examples
What	1. What are you doing tonight? 2. What are we having for dinner?
When	1. When is the match starting? 2. When are we leaving?
Where	1. Where is my diary? 2. Where will the World Cup be held this year?

Shall/Should	1. Shall we go now? 2. Shall I do the job for you? 3. Should you leave early to reach on time?
May	1. May I come in? 2. May I go out for a moment?

Read the following sentences:

1. Oh I am late already...what is the time?
2. Excuse me...can you please tell me the time?
3. Hey! What time does the movie start?
4. When do we have to meet Mr D'Souza?
5. What time is the appointment?
6. When is he going to come?

Questions usually start with words like what, when, how, where, why, is, can, do, did, will, would, could, etc. And that they are always placed at the beginning of the sentence. So we cannot say:

1. The time is like what?
2. You can please tell me the time?
3. The movie starts what time?
4. The appointment is what time?
5. He is going to come when?

If the question pertains to asking for time, they will typically begin with: When... or What time... or Can you tell me...

Read this:

If the question pertains to asking for time, they will typically begin with: When or What time... or Can you tell me... Example:

1. What time is it? ✓
2. Where is the time? X

EXERCISE

A. Frame a question for the following situations:

10. What is the price of the book?
11. You do want some help?
12. Did you see the movie?
13. When did the movie start?
14. You will do me a favour?

Make simple questions using what you have learned and practiced. For example:

1. When do I have to come?
2. What time does the class start?
3. Can you tell me the reporting time for the flight?

ASSESSMENT

A. Tick the correct question from the options given below the statement:

1. It is the name of a person.

 - b. Your flight is on time?
10.
 - a. When are you planning to leave for Bangalore?
 - b. Are you when planning to leave for Bangalore?

SESSION 6: DESCRIBING SOMEONE

RELEVANT KNOWLEDGE

Read aloud the following sentences:

1. Dev Kumar is my favourite film star.
2. He is tall, dark, and handsome.
3. The clothes he wears are so fashionable.
4. His style of dressing very soon sets a trend that all follow.
5. I loved his latest movie Kab Tak.
6. In the movie, he plays the role of a thief superbly.
7. He wears dark clothes when he goes to burgle people's homes at night.
8. He is almost never caught. He manages to escape every time.
9. Once, hearing some noise, the owner of the house switches on the lights.
10. Dev Kumar quickly puts on his ghost mask and the owner gets so scared that he jumps off the balcony!
11. Then Dev Kumar silently leaves the place but not without his booty.

An adjective describes a noun - a person, thing or place.

Example: Delhi is very hot in summer. (describing noun summer)

An adverb describes an adjective, a verb, or another adverb.

Example: Delhi is very hot in summer. (describing adjective hot)

The temperature quickly rises to over 40°C. (describing verb rises)

It almost never comes below 40°C in the month of June. (describing the adverb never)

Adjectives describe a noun/pronoun:

1. This tea is sweet.
2. I am angry right now.

In the above sentences, the words “sweet” and “angry” describe the noun “tea” and the pronoun “I” respectively. Therefore, the words “sweet” and “angry” are adjectives. More examples are given below:

1. It looks like we have a clear sky today.
2. She looks happy, doesn't she?

Adverbs describe adjectives, verbs, or other adverbs.

1. This tea is very sweet.
2. She gets angry quickly.
3. He was smiling rather sadly.

In the first example, the adverb “very” describes the adjective “sweet”.
In the second example, the adverb “quickly” describes the verb “gets”.
In the third example, the adverb “rather” describes the adverb “sadly”.

More examples are given below:

1. She is so excited about the party.
2. We arranged the place nicely.
3. Spring gets over too soon.

ASSESSMENT

Read the passage and identify whether the words in bold are adjectives or adverbs.

There is this girl called Helen in our class. If you want to know how she looks, then here are the details: she is quite tall, she has dark skin, and her hair is long and shiny. Oh! She also has dimples (which we don’t get to see often as she doesn’t smile much!).

She doesn’t talk much or take an active part in any group programs. No wonder why she stays alone most of the time. But she looks very nice when she smiles. As I have already said, she has dimples which we don’t see often (as she doesn’t smile much). I think it was the smile that made me strong enough to talk to her one day.

“Hey Helen!” I said to her (I was really afraid she might not want to talk to me).

“Hi!” said Helen.

“Would you like to have lunch with me?”

“That’s nice of you. But I do not eat meat. I hope you haven’t brought meat?”

“Uh...yes...sorry!”

So, now I have one more thing to tell you about Helen. She is a vegetarian.

Write whether the words give below (as used in the passage) are adjectives or adverbs:

1. Quite _____
2. Tall _____
3. Dark _____
4. Long _____
5. Shiny _____
6. Much _____
7. Active _____
8. Alone _____
9. Very _____
10. Nice _____
11. Strong _____
12. Enough _____
13. Really _____
14. Afraid _____

SESSION 7: DESCRIBING THE WEATHER

RELEVANT KNOWLEDGE

Read and understand the following sentences:

1. It is very hot today.
2. It is very cold today.
3. It is raining today.
4. Today the weather is pleasant - it is neither too hot nor too cold.

Read aloud the weather and climate descriptions given below:

Day's Weather	City's climate
It is quite cold today.	It is very hot in summers.
It is very chilly today.	It is very cold in winters.
It is so hot today.	It gets very less rainfall.
It is quite warm today.	It gets a lot of rain in the monsoon season.
It seems it is going to rain.	It is neither too hot nor too cold.
What a downpour!	It is very cold in winters but pleasant in summers.
Haven't seen such rains for quite some time.	It is very hot in summers but cool in winters.
We are going to have a shower.	It rains almost throughout the year.
It is very pleasant today.	It is very hot during the day but cooler at nights.
It is neither too cold nor too hot.	It is hot and humid in summer.
The skies look clear. No chances of rain.	It is hot and dry in summer.
Lovely day, isn't it?
Looks like it isn't going to stop raining today!
I think the skies are going to clear up later.

Read the conversation given below:

A: Hi! How are you doing?

B: I am fine...what's up?

A: Nothing new. I was just going across to the shop to get a magazine. I am going to stay indoors and read all day today.

B: Yeah...I know. It is too hot to go out to play.

A: But you know, I think it is going to rain later in the day...do you see the dark clouds?

B: That would indeed be a welcome relief.

A: Yes, a cool shower would be great!

B: As it is so hot, why don't we go for a swim today?

A: Mmm...it may rain in the evening...how about a dance in the rain instead?

A complete sentence should have a subject and a verb; otherwise, it is just a fragment of a sentence.

Read the following sentences:

○ Is a cold day.

("Is a cold day" does not have the subject "It"). The complete sentence would be "It is a cold day".

○ The sky clear.

("The sky clear" does not have the verb "is"). The complete sentence would be "The sky is clear".

You can also mention that typically, a sentence in English has the order SVO (Subject - Verb - Object). For example: The rain (subject) brought (verb) welcome relief from the heat (object).

EXERCISE

Correct these simple sentences using what you have learnt.

1. It was freezing cold yesterday.
2. Going to rain very soon.
3. It is so hot and humid.
4. The rain has only increased the humidity.
5. A nice breeze blowing.
6. Lovely weather this.

SESSION 8: FRAMING COMPLETE SENTENCES

RELEVANT KNOWLEDGE

A complete sentence is one that has a subject and a verb. For example, the sentence “I a good dancer” is not a complete sentence as it does not have a verb. Now, if we added the verb “am” to this sentence, it would be complete:
I am a good dancer.

Similarly, the sentence “Am a good dancer” is not complete as a subject is missing. Therefore, we should add a subject to complete the fragment. For example:

I am a good dancer.

Examples:

We have an English class today.

I go to office every weekday.

She likes oranges.

Every sentence must have a subject, a verb and although it is not necessary, an object. And the sentence must make complete sense.

For example,

1. I eat: Subject+Verb
2. I eat vegetables: Subject+Verb+Object

In order for a sentence to be meaningful, a sentence must have its parts in the above orders. For example:

1. I eat vegetables - is a sentence
2. I vegetables eat - is not a sentence
3. I like dancing.
4. I am here.
5. You go to school.
6. She has a nice smile.

EXERCISE

Tick the sentences that are meaningful and correct:

SESSION 10: EXPRESSING STRENGTHS AND WEAKNESSES

RELEVANT KNOWLEDGE

A person's strength is someone or something which gives the person support and encouragement. For example:

“My strength is my patience/willingness to listen to others' opinions/etc.”

A person's weakness is an imperfect quality that he has. For example:

“My weakness is my laziness/inability to forgive easily.”

EXERCISE

Think of at least of one strength and one weakness that you have and write them in the space given below:

ASSESSMENT

Fill in the blanks:

1. My strength is my_____.
2. My_____ is my strength.
3. One of my biggest strengths is my_____.
4. My greatest strength is my_____.
5. My strengths are my _____, my _____, and my _____.
6. My _____, my _____, and my _____ are my strengths.
7. My weakness is my _____.
8. My _____ is my weakness.

SESSION 11: TALKING ABOUT ASPIRATIONS

RELEVANT KNOWLEDGE

An aspiration is something you wish to achieve.

EXERCISE

Fill in the sentences below stating what you aspire to do in life, and, then read them out aloud.

1. I want to...
2. I wish to...
3. I dream of...
4. I would like to...
5. What I really want to do is...
6. I aim for...
7. My ambition is to...
8. What I aspire for is...
9. My aspiration in life is...
10. I aspire to...

Note that the “-ing” form denotes a thing - What is the thing that you dream of? For example: I dream of earning well and living well. On the other hand, the “to -” form denotes action - What do you want to do? For example: I want to earn well and live well.

Some sentences may appear to speak about a future time but they do not denote a future action. For example, the sentences, I aspire to be the best singer in the next Indian Idol contest, or, I hope to do well in my exams tomorrow, are not in the future tense. The action is in the present - I aspire, and, I hope.

Tick the sentences that denote a future action

1. I will try to complete my education and get a good job.
2. I will try to do a IT course as IT is the fastest growing industry.
3. I hope to do well in my exams tomorrow.
4. I want to be happy in life, doing whatever.
5. I should be able to enjoy the work that I am doing - that is the most important thing for me.
6. I aspire to be the best singer in the next Indian Idol contest.
7. I shall be rich and famous by the time I turn 30.

SESSION 12: TALKING ABOUT VALUES

RELEVANT KNOWLEDGE

Your values are your personal inventory of what you consider most important in life.

Your list of values could include the following:

1. Honesty
2. Helpfulness
3. Sincerity
4. Loyalty
5. Respect for work
6. Respect for others

ASSESSMENT

Read the following and fill in the blanks.

1. I believe in_____.
2. The value I cherish the most is_____.
3. I have grown up with the values of_____.
4. My parents have taught me the values of_____.
5. I think _____ and _____ are the values that should be present in very individual.
6. It is good to be guided by the values of _____ and _____ in one's life.

SESSION 13: QUANTIFIERS

RELEVANT KNOWLEDGE

Quantifiers are words or phrases used before a noun to indicate the amount or quantity. Quantifiers are used depending upon whether the noun is countable or uncountable. Words such as Many, Much, Some, Few, a lot of, etc. are called quantifiers.

Some things can be counted. For example, a kilo of rice, number of houses, etc. However, qualities or values cannot be counted just as many other things such as water, milk, gas, etc.

Countable Nouns

Countable nouns have singular and plural forms. In plural, these nouns can be used with a number i.e., they can be counted. And that is why they are called as countable nouns.

Examples:

many, few/a few, a lot of, several, none

I kept some/many/a few/a very few/a number of/a lot of/several oranges in the basket.

None of the oranges in the basket were ripe.

Uncountable nouns

Uncountable nouns can only be used in singular form. These nouns cannot be used with a number i.e., they cannot be counted.

Examples:

much, little/a little, very little, bit of, a lot of, a great deal of, a large amount of, a large quantity of.

Read the following examples:

1. My grandfather is a farmer. Last winter, I ate a lot of apples from my grandfather's orchard. (apples is countable)
2. My grandfather has some very good qualities, such as honesty and sincerity. (good qualities is countable as you can count the number of good qualities. In this case, it is two - honesty and sincerity)
3. The whole family loves and respects my grandfather. He gets much respect from other farmers in the area too. (respect is uncountable)
4. We need to add some/a little/a lot of sugar.
5. How much sugar should we add?

Adjectives for countable and uncountable nouns

Much / Many

We use much with uncountable nouns.

Example: How much more time is left for the show to get over?

She has so much work to complete before the weekend.

Many is used with countable nouns.

Example: How many clothes will fill this suitcase?

There are many children in the park.

A lot of / lots of

A lot of is used with countable nouns.

Example: There is a lot of money in the bank.

Lots of is used with uncountable nouns.

Example: I want to drink lots of water.

There are lots of flies in this room.

Little, quite a little, few, quite a few

Little and quite a little modify only uncountable nouns.

Example: There is little room for you in the bus. (Meaning hardly any space)

There is quite a little space left for you to fit in. (Meaning plenty of space)

Few and quite a few are used with countable nouns.

Example: There are a few coins in her piggy bank. (Meaning very less)

There are quite a few coins in her piggy bank. (Meaning many)

A little bit of, quite a bit of Both these phrases are used with uncountable nouns.

Example: We mix a little bit of yellow with red to make orange. (Meaning less)

There is quite a bit of salt in the mutton. (Meaning much)

Fewer / Less

Fewer is used with countable nouns.

Example: Fewer people can be seen traveling in buses.

Drink fewer glasses of alcohol.

Less is used with uncountable nouns.

There is less water in this bottle.

One should take less sugar.

However, there is an exception to this rule. When less is used in terms like “no less than” or “or less”, it is used with countable nouns.

His lesson had no less than ten red marks on it.

State your reasons in 25 words or less.

Also, we use less than for a countable noun that denotes a measure of time, amount, or distance.

Less than three months; less than 50 km; less than Rs100

Enough, plenty of, some, any, and no are used with both countable and uncountable nouns.

There is enough content in the book.

There are enough pages in the note book.

There is plenty of food in the kitchen.

There are plenty of trees in the orchard.

We have some money kept at home.

We have some bottles in the fridge.

Are there any good shoes in the shop?

Is there any water in the well?

There is no time left.

There are no ducks in the pond.

ASSESSMENT

Choose the correct option and fill in the blanks:

1. _____ people may value money but I value love more. (Some, Little)
2. I believe _____ things in this life are as priceless as a true friend. (none, few)
3. A _____ kindness can do a lot for those who need it. (little, few)
4. There are _____ things which we do not need in life but we still go after. (much, many)
5. _____ people make the mistake of thinking only wealth can bring happiness. (A lot of, Much)

6. Fame, beauty, money - _____ of them can fool the wise into chasing them. (any, none)
7. Sharing a laugh with friends is a _____ better way of dealing with sadness than crying. (little, much)
8. Love, kindness, generosity - _____ of them is worth more than jewels or gold. (a lot of, any)
9. I believe that _____ of the hatred in this world is caused by lack of respect. (many, much)
10. _____ (Any, Few) of us are ready to say “Sorry” but _____ of us always demand it from others. (many, much)

SESSION 14: INVITING SOMEONE

RELEVANT KNOWLEDGE

Read the sentences given below aloud, with the right intonation (modulation of voice):

1. Do you want to come to my party tonight?
2. I have a party tonight. You can come.
3. Come to my party tonight.
4. I am inviting you to come to my party tonight.
5. There is a party at my place tonight. Why don't you come?
6. There is a party at my place tonight. I would like you to come.
7. Would you like to come to my party tonight?
8. I have a party tonight. I would love it if you could come.

Did you notice any difference in tone between the first four examples and the last four?

In all the sentences given above, the speaker is inviting someone to his party that night. However, examples 1-4 are hardly used by people as they sound very casual and even rude (example 3). Examples 5-8, on the other hand, are polite ways of inviting people and so are preferable.

Read aloud the following sentences:

1. Would you like to come to the party?
2. Why don't you come to the party?
3. It would be nice/great if you come to my wedding.
4. I would be happy if you come to my wedding.
5. I would love it if you come to my wedding.
6. I would like to invite you to my wedding/party/...

Inviting someone to go somewhere with you:

1. We are going to the movie/mall/... today. Would you like to come?
2. Would you like to go to the movies/mall/... with us?
3. We are going to the movie/mall/.... Do you want to come?

Inviting someone to join you in something:

1. We are having lunch at the hotel. Would you like to join us?
2. Would you like to join us for lunch?

EXERCISE

Study the conversation snippets A, B, C and D given below:

Snippet A: Invitation to a birthday party

Student 1: It's my birthday today.

Student 2: Really? Happy Birthday!

Student 1: Thanks. Actually, I am having a birthday party at my place this afternoon and I would like to invite you.

Student 2: Sounds great! I would love to come.

Student 1: Thanks. I will see you then.

Snippet B: Invitation to an engagement

Student 1: I am getting engaged!

Student 2: That's great news! When?

Student 1: On the 15th of this month. Why don't you come to the party?

Student 2: Of course, I will come.

Snippet C: Invitation to a picnic

Student 1: Hey, are you free this Sunday?

Student 2: Yes. Why?

Student 1: We are planning to go on a picnic to Deer Park. Would you like to join us?

Student 2: Definitely!

Snippet D: Invitation to a show

Student 1: Do you have any plans for this Saturday?

Student 2: Not at the moment. Why?

Student 1: I have two tickets for a play. Would you like to come?

Student 2: Oh! I would love to. Thanks!

SESSION 15: SHOPPING FOR NECESSITIES

RELEVANT KNOWLEDGE

Whenever we shop for items, there is a conversation exchange. In this session, you will learn to speak some standard sentences used to shop for necessities. Read out aloud the following sentences:

1. I want a litre of full-cream milk. Do you have Amul Gold or Mother Dairy?
2. Do you have Kissan jam? I want a 500 gm bottle.
3. Can you weigh me a kilo of potatoes?
4. I want a packet of Harvest Gold brown bread.
5. Do you have Britannia cheese slices?
6. I want a litre each of Sundrop sunflower oil and Dhara mustard oil.
7. I want a dozen bananas? Are these fresh?
8. I want a 10 kilo packet of Shakti Bhog Atta.

Read the following sentences:

1. Ram buys bread and milk daily.
2. Bread and milk is bought by Ram daily.

1. The shop stocks fresh fruits and vegetables.
2. Fresh fruits and vegetables are stocked by the shop.

1. My brother owns the garment shop in the locality.
2. The garment shop in the locality is run by my brother.

Do you notice any difference between the two sets of sentences? In these sentences, the subject and the object have changed places.

The subject is the person or thing that the sentence talks about.

The object is the person or thing that is affected by the action of the verb.

So, in the first sentence, Ram (subject) becomes the object in the second sentence, and the object of the first sentence (bread and milk) becomes the subject of the second sentence.

The first sentences are more direct expressions, and the second sentences, with the “-by-” construction, are indirect expressions of the same thing.

Therefore, generally, the first type of sentence construction is preferred. For example:

1. Sita gave a book to Geeta to read.
2. Geeta was given a book to be read by Sita.
3. Ravi paid the hospital bills.
4. The hospital bill was paid by Ravi.
5. The gardener has watered the plants.
6. The plants have been watered by the gardener.

To summarize:

In sentences which are in the Active Voice, the action expressed in the verb is performed by the subject. For example:

I cooked the meal.
He watered the plants.
Meenu sang the song.

In sentences which are in the Passive Voice, the action expressed in the verb is received by the subject. For example:

The meal was cooked by me.
The plants were watered by him.
The song was sung by Meenu.

EXERCISE

Now change the subject-object places in the following sentences:

1. The teacher greeted the class

2. Ritu read out a paragraph from the book.

3. My mother makes the best dosas.

4. This chair makes a lot of noise.

5. Smita gave some money to the child.

ASSESSMENT

Change the following sentences into Active/Passive Voice as directed. The first two have been done for you.

1. I bought the eggs from Mandeep's store.

Passive Voice: The eggs were bought by me from Mandeep's store.

2. Twenty rupees was charged by Mandeep for the eggs.

Active Voice: Mandeep charged twenty rupees for the eggs.

3. We sell only refined sugar.

Passive Voice: _____.

4. I was asked by my parents to choose anything from the mall for my birthday.

Active Voice: _____.

5. At the mall, the salesman showed me a lot of pretty dresses.

Passive Voice: _____.

6. I was given a discount on the blue dress.

Active Voice: He _____.

7. Ramu's son sells potter ware at Kamla Nagar market.

Passive Voice: _____.

8. Around ten to twelve pots are sold by him every week.

Active Voice: _____.

9. The woman asked him to show her some big pots.

Passive Voice: _____.

10. Three pots were finally bought by the woman.

Active Voice: _____.

SESSION 16: ASKING THE PRICE

RELEVANT KNOWLEDGE

How would you ask the price of the book?

“Excuse me, how much does that book cost?”

How would you find out the price of some articles that are used daily?.

Let’s understand the correct usage of the articles a, an, and the.

- A - Before singular nouns beginning with a consonant sound
Examples: a woman, a bag, a united country, a doctor, a teacher, a horse, a university, a useful item etc.
- An - Before singular nouns beginning with a vowel sound
Examples: an Indian, an airplane, an open door, an egg, an upper floor, an honest boy, an enemy, an umbrella, an heir, an hour, an inkstand, an ice-cream etc.
- The - Before particular nouns
Examples: the girl who has long hair, the man in the car, the dog that barked at you, etc.

1. The book I wanted is out of print.
2. I like the novel you gave me.
3. Let us go to the park for a walk.
4. Before uncountable nouns

Examples: the water, the sand, the sugar, etc.

More Examples:

1. The banyan is a kind of fig tree (Note: do not say a kind of a fig tree!).
2. The cow is a domestic animal. (Can also say- A cow is a domestic animal - What is the difference between the two?)
3. The Himalayas lie to the North of India.
4. The Mr. Chauhan you met yesterday is my uncle.

EXERCISE

Study the following conversation snippets and complete them:

Asking the Price A

2. What is the price of _____?
3. How much does _____ cost?
4. How much will I have to pay for _____?
5. Could you tell me the price of _____?

SESSION 17: NEGOTIATION

RELEVANT KNOWLEDGE

What does a negotiation entail (meaning - involve)? It means “finding the middle ground” - to arrange or settle something by discussion and mutual agreement.

Study the table given below:

To agree on a point	To disagree on a point
I agree with you on that point.	I understand your point. However...
That's a fair suggestion.	I am prepared to compromise, but...
So what you are saying is that you...	If you look at it from my point of view...
In other words, you feel that...	Well, I think of it differently.
You have a strong point there.	I am afraid this is not going to work for me.
I think we can both agree that...	I think we could also look at it this way...
I don't see any problem with that/harm in that...	I have to disagree with you there.

The sentences in the first column are used to agree to what the other person is saying during a negotiation. The sentences in the second column are used to disagree or state a different point of view during a negotiation.

Notice the usage of these sentences in the dialogue between a manager and a worker on negotiating a raise in salary.

Negotiating a Raise in Salary

Manager: Hi Ajay! You wanted to meet me?

Ajay: Yes Sir. There is something important that I want to discuss with you.

Manager: Ok...what is it about?

Ajay: Sir I wish to discuss my salary...I would like a raise.

Manager: A raise!...Don't you know the state of the economy?...you should feel lucky that you have a job!

Ajay: I am aware of that Sir, but I also know that some companies are hiring in this sector. I have made a few calls and what they are offering is certainly much more than what I get here.

Manager: But I thought you were happy with us, Ajay. You know that we offer many facilities and incentives to our employees.

Ajay: *I agree on that...*but if you look at the rising cost of living, you will see that my salary over the last 2 years has effectively remained the same.

Manager: You have a strong point there, Ajay. In other words you feel that you are underpaid.

Ajay: Yes, I am afraid so.

Manager: I can understand your problem, Ajay. But you also know that for in the past year we have hardly made any profits and the coming year does not look very bright either.

Ajay: Yes I know Sir. I am prepared to compromise. I am not asking for what other companies in this sector are offering. But I do expect a salary revision. Anything less than that is not going to work for me.

Manager: Ok...Let me see what I can do for you. Shall we meet again after two days to discuss this?

Ajay: Yes Sir...I will expect your call. Thank you for considering my case.

Notice how the use of these sentences helps both contenders in the negotiation to present their case and forward their interest.

Some examples of phrases used while negotiating on different occasions:

1. This is too costly...
2. Can you give me a discount...
3. That is not possible...
4. Look at the quality of the paper. It is the best quality...
5. I know but...
6. I am buying a large number of cards...

7. Okay, let me see...
8. That is the maximum discount I can give you...
9. Is that your last price...
10. Ok, let us settle for...

EXERCISE

Try to answer the following questions based on the dialogue above:

1. Whom did Ajay approach?
2. What did Ajay want to talk about?
3. Why was the Manager surprised when he heard what Ajay had to say?
4. What had the Manager thought about Ajay?
5. Did the Manager understand Ajay's problem?
6. What "compromise" was Ajay willing to make?

We all can easily understand what is clearly stated in the passage. However, comprehension is the ability to "read between the lines" or understand what is implied in the passage but not explicitly stated. For example:

1. Select the correct option:
 - a. The Manager was angry at Ajay
 - b. The Manager was surprised
 - c. The Manager disagreed with Ajay
2. Select the correct option:
 - a. Ajay knew he had a strong case, so he spoke with conviction
 - b. Ajay knew he was asking too much, given the uncertain economic climate
 - c. Ajay knew he had a strong case, but was unsure of his success at negotiating the raise

3. When Ajay says that he has made a few calls to other companies to know the salary they are offering, does it mean that he may leave and join some other company if he is not given a raise? Answer in “Yes” or “No”.

ASSESSMENT

Read the following passage and answer the questions given below.

Negotiation is a tricky art that not many find easy to do. The important thing to keep in mind is that you have to listen to what the other person is saying. You cannot go on talking about what you want or what you think. The other person may have a point of view that you need not take note of too.

The other important point is that you should never disagree strongly or deny any point completely. For example, you should not say: I think you are wrong. Instead you should say: I see your point. However, I also think that...

So the ideal negotiation would be a situation where both parties feel that they have been heard and some of their demands have been met. Of course, if you feel that the other person is making a completely unreasonable demand, you could just walk away!

1. What do you think the line “Negotiation is a tricky art...” mean?
 - a) It is difficult
 - b) It is complicated
 - c) It is easy

2. What is the first important point about negotiation that one has to keep in mind?
 - a) You have to listen to what the other person is saying
